

Read ME

In order to run this file against different parameters, one can change

- the activation variable which can be found in train() method
- the max_iterations variable in train() method definition
- the learning_rate variable in train() method definition
- also update the method name self.__"name_of_activation_function used"(xyz...) which can be found in forward_pass() method every time the activation function is changed.